ABOUT TLISC

The Transport and Logistics Industry Skills Council (TLISC) is an independent, not-for-profit, stakeholder-focused organisation supporting the Transport and Logistics Industry to maintain and grow a highly skilled and productive workforce, by establishing national skills standards and providing strategic workforce development advice.

OVERVIEW INFORMATION

This Companion Volume Implementation Guide (CVIG) is designed to assist assessors, trainers, Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) and enterprises in delivering the TLI Transport and Logistics Industry Training Package. It provides advice about the structure of the Training Package, its key features and useful links to more detailed information on a range of related topics.

Version control and modification history

Training Packages are dynamic documents and are amended periodically to reflect the latest industry practices. Training Packages are version controlled and so it is essential that the latest release is always used. Training Packages, the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) and competency standards

Training Packages

The Training Packages:

- specify the qualifications determined by regulatory requirements and industry groups to be most relevant for employment within the industry

- are developed by national Industry Skills Councils in consultation with a range of stakeholders

- are endorsed by an authorised body established by the Australian Government

- enable nationally recognised qualifications to be awarded through direct assessment of workplace competencies

- encourage the development and delivery of flexible training to suit individual needs and industry requirements

- support learning, training and assessment in a work-related environment, leading to verifiable workplace outcomes.

The title of each endorsed Training Package is unique and relates to the broad industry coverage of the Training Package.

Each Training Package has a unique national code assigned when the Training Package is endorsed, for example TLI.

Training and assessment using Training Packages must be conducted by an RTO that has the qualification/s or specific unit/s of competency on its scope of registration.

New Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015 came into effect on 1 April 2015 and are located on the Australian Government ComLaw website.

Information about these standards can be found at the:

- Department of Education and Training

- Australian Skills Quality Authority

Standards for Training Packages apply to the design and development of Training Packages for endorsement by the authorising body.

Information about these current standards, including applicable templates, can be found at the Department of Education and Training website (https://www.education.gov.au/training-packages).

These templates describe mandatory and optional information that applies to units of competency, assessment requirements and qualifications.

This CVIG clarifies how these templates have been applied in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package Release 2.0.

Information about how TLISC is working with industry to comply with the Standards for Training Packages can be found on the TLISC website (TLISC - New Training Package Standards Implementation).

Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF)

The AQF provides a comprehensive, nationally consistent framework for all qualifications in post-compulsory education and training in Australia. In the vocational education and training (VET) sector the AQF enables national recognition of qualifications and Statements of Attainment.

The TLI Transport and Logistics Industry Training Package Release 2.0 provides details of the units of competency that must be achieved to award AQF qualifications.

The rules around which units of competency can be combined to make up a valid AQF qualification are referred to as the packaging rules. The packaging rules must be followed to ensure the integrity of nationally recognised qualifications issued.

The packaging rules are defined within each qualification in a Training Package.

Competency Standards

The broad concept of industry competency is the ability to perform particular tasks and duties to the standard of performance expected in the workplace. Competency standards cover all aspects of workplace performance and involve:

- performing individual tasks

- managing a range of different tasks

- responding to contingencies or breakdowns

- dealing with the responsibilities of the workplace, including working with others.

Workplace competency is the ability to apply relevant skills and knowledge consistently over time and in the required workplace situations and environments.

Competency standards are determined by industry to meet industry skill needs and focus on what is expected of a competent individual in the workplace.

Qualifications

Codes and titles

There are mandatory conventions specified in the Standards for Training Packages for the titles and codes used in Training Packages and their components.

QUALIFICATION CODE MANDATORY FIELD	The qualification code contains the three alpha characters identifying the Training Package, a numeric character identifying the AQF level, a two numeric character sequence identifier, and two numeric characters identifying the year the qualification was endorsed. It must comply with the length specified in the AVETMIS Standard.
QUALIFICATION TITLE MANDATORY FIELD	A unique title that reflects the qualification outcome. It must comply with the length specified in the AVETMIS Standard (no more than 100 characters).

Extract from Standards for Training Packages
Extract from Training Package Products Policy

The title of each endorsed Training Package qualification is unique. Qualification titles use the following sequence:

- first, the qualification is identified as either Certificate I, Certificate II, Certificate III, Certificate IV, Diploma, Advanced Diploma, Graduate Certificate, or Graduate Diploma

- this is followed by the words 'in' for Certificates I to IV and Graduate Certificate, and 'of' for Diploma, Advanced Diploma and Graduate Diploma

- then, the industry descriptor, for example Warehousing

- then, if applicable, the occupational or functional stream in brackets, for example (Track Work).

Each qualification has an eight-character code where the:

- first three characters identify the Training Package

- first number identifies the AQF qualification level

- second and third numbers identify a qualification's position in the sequence of qualifications at that AQF qualification level

- fourth and fifth numbers identify the year in which the qualification was endorsed.

For example:

Units of Competency

Codes and titles

Units of competency are nationally agreed statements about the skills and knowledge required for effective performance in the workplace. They outline work outcomes as defined by regulatory requirements and agreed by industry.

As such, they identify the skills and knowledge (as outcomes) that contribute to the whole job function − they do not describe how to perform a particular role.

Each unit of competency covers a specific work activity, the range of conditions under which the activity is conducted and the foundation skills essential to performance.

The same unit of competency (i.e. specific work activity) can be relevant across a range of AQF qualification levels. It is important to check the packaging rules in qualifications to establish how units can apply.

| UNIT CODE MANDATORY FIELD | The unit code contains the three alpha characters identifying the Training Package, followed by alpha and/or numeric characters. It must comply with the length specified in the AVETMIS Standard (no more than 12 characters). |
| UNIT TITLE MANDATORY FIELD | The title concisely describes the unit outcome. It must comply with the length specified in the AVETMIS Standard (no more than 100 characters) |

There are mandatory conventions specified in the Standards for Training Packages for the titles and codes used in Training Packages and their components.

The codes are assigned to units of competency when the Training Package is endorsed, or when new units of competency are added to an existing endorsed Training Package.

Each unit of competency has a specific code where the:

- first three characters identify the Training Package

- next character/s indicates the competency field

- numbers identify a unit's position in the sequence of units in the competency field in the Training Package.

For example:

Assessment requirements

Each unit of competency has its own assessment requirements that identify the:

- performance evidence

- knowledge evidence

- assessment conditions.

Imported units and their prerequisite units

The TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package includes imported units of competency from other Training Packages.

Please check the relevant assessment requirements of the source Training Package by accessing the national training website www.training.gov.au (TGA) or a physical copy regarding any special conditions that may apply to the assessment of imported units of competency.

For up-to-date releases of the imported units, refer to www.training.gov.au or the respective Industry Skills Council.

Where any of the units listed below are used to form a qualification or Skill Set they do not count as units imported under the qualification packaging rule:

- Up to X of the general elective units may be selected from any relevant nationally endorsed Training Package or accredited course. The general elective units must contribute to the vocational outcomes of the qualification.
  Where imported units are selected, care must be taken to ensure that all prerequisite units specified are complied with.

Key work and training requirements in the industry

The Transport and Logistics Industry is characterised by immense diversity in occupations, workforce development needs, business types and sizes, and locations. It directly affects every part of the economy and everyone's standard of living – from what we buy, to the price we pay for goods, to how we get from place to place.

The industry encompasses activities in logistics and warehousing, road transport, aviation, rail, and maritime and ports. Because of its integration within the economy and the embedded nature of its functions, the relative 'health' of the industry is often considered a barometer for the overall strength of the economy.

The industry has a diverse range of occupations, from crews of vehicles, trains, vessels and aircraft, to staff involved in engineering, infrastructure, tourism, hospitality, security, retailing, warehousing, administration, and information technology. The Environmental Scan published annually by TLISC contains detailed information about each industry sector, and current opportunities and challenges in the broader economic context. Analysis of skills needs and workforce demographics are presented with assessment of the impact of Training Packages and future requirements. Infographics summarise key statistics for each industry sector.

Regulation and licensing implications for implementation

Licensing/legislative/certification requirements

Licensing/regulatory authorities across Australia have actively participated in the development of this Training Package. This Training Package contains a number of licensing units of competency as packaged in various Skill Sets and qualifications. These units align to licensing outcomes in high risk work, heavy vehicle driving and the carriage of dangerous goods by road. Licensing/regulatory requirements vary between states and territories and may change from time to time.

The developers of this Training Package consider that the licensing/regulatory requirements described in this section apply to RTOs, assessors or candidates with respect to this Training Package. While reasonable care has been taken in its preparation, the developers of this Training Package and the Department of Education and Training cannot guarantee that the list is definitive or accurate at the time of reading; the information in this section is provided in good faith on that basis.

Each unit of competency, Skill Set or qualification in this Training Package identifies where regulation and/or licensing apply by using an appropriate statement such as:

- This unit is based on the licensing requirements of Part 4.5 of the Model Work Health and Safety (WHS) Regulations, HRW and meets Commonwealth, state and territory HRW licensing requirements.

  Any alteration to this unit would result in a unit that would not be acceptable to work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) regulators for the purpose of licensing.

- Licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this unit. As these requirements can vary between states, territories or industry sectors, relevant information must be sourced prior to application of this unit.

- This unit meets part of the certification requirements for obtaining specialist driver accreditations. As requirements may vary between states and territories, people seeking specialist driver accreditation should contact their state/territory licensing regulator.

- Candidates should ensure that they have also read the part of the Training Package that outlines licensing and regulatory requirements.

- No licensing, legislative or certification requirements apply to this qualification at the time of publication.

Further information about applicable licensing and regulatory authorities can be found in Attachment D.

People employed in the Transport and Logistics Industry need to fulfil competency and training requirements as detailed in the regulatory requirements relevant to their occupation. People assessed as complying with these requirements are usually provided with some form of certification by the respective authority. These are certificates required by the relevant state/territory or Australian legislation or international code or convention before a person can work in the occupation covered under the legislation.

Do not confuse these certificates with national VET qualifications issued by RTOs.

While in the Transport and Logistics Industry there is a close relationship between regulatory certificates and the national VET qualifications, they are issued by different organisations under different legislative authority.

Licensing/legislative/certification requirements will apply to units of competency and their assessment requirements, Skill Sets and/or qualifications in specific situations and contexts such as driving, high risk work, working with dangerous goods and hazardous substance, chain of responsibility.

Examples of the instruments that cover these licensing/legislative/certification requirements include:

- relevant state/territory roads and traffic authority driving regulations and licence/permit requirements including mass and loading regulations, and state/territory oversize/mass pilot/escort permit requirements

- chain of responsibility legislation

- fatigue management regulations and codes of practice

- national Load Restraint Guide (LRG)

- heavy vehicle national law (HVNL)

- relevant state/territory road rules

- Australian, international and state/territory regulations and codes of practice for the handling, storage and transport of dangerous goods and hazardous substances, including:

  - Australian and International regulations and codes for transporting and storing explosives

  - Australian Dangerous Goods (ADG) Code

  - Australian Marine Orders and the International Maritime Dangerous Goods (IMDG) Code

  - customs regulations (export/import/bond requirements)

  - definitions for classifying a packaging as an intermediate bulk container (IBC) or pressure vessel or multiple element gas container (MEGC)

  - HAZCHEM codes

  - International Air Transport Association (IATA) Dangerous Goods Regulations (DGR)

  - national Load Restraint Guide (LRG)

  - quarantine regulations administered by the responsible Australian Government department

  - relevant state/territory authority regulations and codes of practice

  - relevant state/territory environmental protection legislation

  - relevant state/territory rail safety Act

- relevant state/territory water use regulations
- relevant state/territory work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) legislation, regulations and codes of practice
- state/territory rail industry safeworking regulations and codes of practice
- UN packaging specifications.

IMPLEMENTATION INFORMATION

Key features of the Training Package and the industry that will impact on the selection of training pathways

Pathways define a path or sequence of learning or experience that can be followed to attain competency and describe the way in which training and assessment is undertaken in an education or training program. They are not mandatory and may vary depending on the qualification or training program, the needs of the individual and the industry.

The Training Package is flexible and many ways pathways can be constructed to align with individual requirements and business needs. RTOs can work with their clients to apply the flexibility available in the packaging rules to ensure 'fit for purpose outcomes'.

Industry sectors and qualification occupational outcomes

The TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package contains 62 qualifications comprising 706 industry-specific units of competency aligned to occupations across the following four sectors:

- Logistics and Warehousing
- Road Transport
- Rail
- Ports.

Pathways advice

Attachment E provides sector and qualification pathways guidance. Information about specific pathways relevant to qualifications in the Training Package is best provided by RTOs delivering the qualifications and state/territory advisory bodies.

Generally, all qualifications in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package are suitable for delivery via an Australian Apprenticeships pathway.

The Australian Apprenticeships website offers information about traineeships and apprenticeships and includes links to State and Territory Training Authorities (STAs) that monitor provision.

VET in Schools programs are packaged and delivered in a variety of ways across Australia. However, it is highly recommended that schools work together in partnership with an RTO where qualifications or Skill Sets result in strong transferable skills relevant to the needs of the individual and commercial enterprises.

It is generally acknowledged that the warehousing and logistics Certificate I and II qualifications are suitable entry pathways to the industry for school aged people. There are age and experience limitations on licensing and compliance aspects, which make some qualifications unsuitable for school-based programs.

Note that these qualifications are examples only, and school to industry is not the only pathway into the Transport and Logistics Industry. Entry points are influenced by many factors. The nature of the supply chain also means that there are many opportunities, including cross industry alternatives.

Credit transfer arrangements between qualifications in this Training Package and higher education qualifications are encouraged between providers. Aspects of transport and logistics are embedded in many disciplines including business and commerce, management and leadership and infrastructure. TLISC will continue to investigate and publicise examples of practical credit transfer models as they are applied.

TLISC has developed information to support information about careers available in the Transport and Logistics Industry and continues to advocate the flexible and diverse opportunities available.

TLISC Industry Career Pathway

Case studies are being developed to further support career strategy options and will be available on the TLISC website. Many RTOs have applied successful pathway models using the flexibility of the Training Package to meet individual and industry requirements

The TLISC Workforce webpage gives real life accounts of how employees and enterprises in the Transport and Logistics industry have benefited from upskills.

Access and equity

Good vocational education and training, and assessment include making adjustments to meet the learning and assessment needs of individuals. An open mind, common sense and tailoring training and assessment to individual circumstances should ensure individuals achieve the standards employers and RTOs expect.

Adjustments can be made to assist learners to access and participate in vocational education and training. Adjustments are reasonable if they achieve this purpose and take into account factors such as the nature of the learner's ability and specific disability support needs, the views of the learner, the potential effect of the adjustment on the learner and others, and the costs and benefits of making the adjustment.

Reasonable adjustments need only be that – reasonable. It is about identifying what adjustments might reasonably be made and how they may be put into place.

Assessment processes and techniques should be modified for distance-based learners, and be culturally appropriate and suitable to the communication skill level, language, literacy and numeracy capacity of the candidate and the work being performed.

An individual's access to the assessment process should not be adversely affected by restrictions placed on the location or context of assessment.

Assessment processes and techniques must be appropriate to the language, literacy and numeracy requirements of the work being performed and the needs of the candidate.

Foundation Skills

Language, literacy and numeracy skills can make the difference between whether or not someone succeeds in training and at work. These important skills are now called 'core skills' or 'foundation skills' because they are at the core of – or the foundation to – other more specific technical skills.

All units of competency in TLISC Training Packages clearly describe the foundation skills that are essential to performance in the elements and performance criteria of the unit.

There is a distinction between 'core skills' and 'foundation skills' in Training Packages, which can be summarised as follows:

- Core skills are those described in the Australian Core Skills Framework: learning, numeracy, oral communication (speaking and listening), reading and writing.

- Foundation skills is the term that the Australian Government uses in a number of different contexts, including vocational units of competency, to capture language, literacy and numeracy skills and employment skills.

In the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package, foundation skills are explicit in the performance criteria in each unit of competency.

This is achieved with the use of key words or phrases to indicate foundation skills that are essential to performance. It is important to note that foundation skills may not have the same meaning in every instance and do need to be considered in the relevant job context.

The significance of each of these skills will also vary in respect to job roles and the strengths of individuals. It is important for users of the Training Package to contextualise relevant foundation skills identified in units of competency and assessment criteria.

The TLISC website provides links to resources and other more detailed information specific to foundation skills, which is freely available here: TLISC - Foundation Skills.

FSK Foundation Skills Training Package

The FSK Foundation Skills Training Package allows RTOs to choose and deliver foundation skills units, qualifications and Skill Sets that will enable learners to build the specific foundation skills they need to achieve vocational competency.

Foundation skills units provide additional information about the types of language, literacy and numeracy skills that are needed to meet the requirements of vocational units.

Further information about the FSK Foundation Skills Training Package is available from the Innovation & Business Skills Australia (IBSA) website (www.ibsa.org.au) or the Training Package can be downloaded from www.training.gov.au. The purpose-built online resource, Building Strong Foundations, supports the implementation of the Training Package with information and advice, video segments, templates and links to other relevant resources. It is available here: IBSA – Building Strong Foundations.

Health and safety implications in the industry

Work health and safety (WHS)/occupational health and safety (OHS) has been used in units of competency to refer to the relevant legislation. As not all jurisdictions have implemented the Model Work Health and Safety (WHS) Act the combined term is used to recognise that either the national model or existing state instrument will apply, as specified by the relevant regulatory authority.

In jurisdictions where the Model WHS Act has not been implemented, RTOs are advised to contextualise the unit of competency by referring to the existing state OHS legislative requirements.

Resources and equipment relevant to the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package

The assessment requirements relevant to each unit of competency refer to the relevant resources and equipment required for assessment.

Where a specific vehicle or piece of equipment is referred to, it must be used in the relevant assessment.

In particular, for assessment, access is required to:

* a range of relevant exercises, case studies and/or simulations
* a vehicle typical of that used in the industry
* applicable documentation including workplace procedures, regulations, codes of practice and operation manuals
* relevant materials, tools, equipment and personal protective equipment currently used in industry.

Specific assessment requirements and strategies are defined in the relevant unit where applicable.

RTOs can only conduct training and/or assessment of the qualifications and/or units of competency in this Training Package provided they are covered by their Scope of Registration.

The assessment requirements for each unit of competency specify the relevant resources and equipment required to achieve the vocational outcomes of the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package.

Legal considerations for learners in the workplace

Legal requirements that apply to specific industries and VET vary across each state and territory, and the commonwealth, and can change.

Contact relevant state/territory and commonwealth authorities to determine specific legal requirements.

Please refer to Attachment D for further details.

CVIG quality assurance process

This CVIG is initiated in accordance with the requirements of the Standards for Training Packages.

The steps in the quality assurance (QA) process as they apply to the CVIG are:

1. The CVIG is developed by the Training Package Specialists (TPSs) in accordance with Standards 11 and 12 of the Standards for Training Packages and conforms to the CVIG template (refer to Attachment G).

   - Standard 11: A quality assured companion volume implementation guide produced by the Training Package developer is available at the time of endorsement and complies with the companion volume implementation guide template.

   - Standard 12: Training Package developers produce other quality assured companion volumes to meet the needs of their stakeholders as required.

2. Content is validated and amended as part of the validation stage in the implementation of the Standards.

3. Amendments are made as required and the CVIG is submitted for external QA with the Training Package changes to ensure it is available at the time of endorsement.

4. As the implementation of the Standards continues for the Training Package the CVIG is reviewed by the TPSs to ensure mapping tables are updated and any additional information is added as required. Proposed changes are subject to industry validation as part of the Endorsement process.

5. Where changes are made to a Training Package and minor amendments are required for the CVIG, the TPSs include amendments as part of the validation phase and incorporate the reference in the version control and modification history at the front of the CVIG, and the mapping tables.

ATTACHMENT C: UNITS OF COMPETENCY MAPPING

Key: E = equivalent, N = not equivalent, NA = not applicable

Equivalent means the outcomes of old and new units of competency are equivalent.

Note: All units of competency have been aligned to the Standards for Training Packages, including the Unit of Competency template and the Assessment Requirements template.

To do this, some modifications were required to units of competency in the TLI10 Transport and Logistics Training Package Release 4.2, such as rewording the Application of the unit, updating terminology, correcting grammar and, in some cases, rewording text. Throughout this process the intent of each unit has remained the same.

As part of this alignment process, the Range of Conditions statements have either been moved to the CVIG or to the assessment requirements, as appropriate. The result of this process is that the units of competency from the TLI10 Transport and Logistics Training Package Release 4.2 are equivalent to the units of competency in the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package Release 2.0, unless otherwise stated.

ATTACHMENT E: TRAINING PACKAGE PATHWAYS ADVICE

The TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package contains qualifications related to many occupations. Further information can be found at the Transport and Logistics page of the TLISC website.

Information on the diverse range of occupations and positions in the Transport and Logistics Industry can be found at the Go Places website.

Click for TLISC Go Places website.

There are a range of specialised areas that can require a licence, technical skills, specialised knowledge or combinations of these; the Training Package provides flexibly structured qualifications to meet these requirements.

The structure of Training Package qualifications maximises flexibility between qualifications at the same AQF level (horizontal) and between qualifications at different levels (vertical). There are many options for qualification pathways within and between the industry sectors.

The Training Package also contains units of competency imported from other Training Packages to enable organisations with broader needs than the transport and logistics sectors to ensure qualifications are relevant to their operation.

Various pathway options are available in the Training Package and can be summarised as follows:

- Figures 1 – 6 are overviews based on each qualification stream. They show a hierarchical pathway and are a useful snapshot of the qualifications aligned to the AQF levels. Qualifications at lower AQF levels are not prerequisites for the higher level qualifications.

  In practice, the qualifications through the structure of electives, generally incorporate transferable broad based skills applicable to a diverse range of job roles in more than one stream.

- Pre-vocational and industry entry level qualifications

  The TLI10115 Certificate I in Transport and Logistics (Pathways) is a cross sector qualification suitable for those with limited access to formal education and training as well as year 9 or 10 students as a framework for a structured workplace learning program.

  There is also a Certificate I qualification for the warehousing sector and some Skill Sets that can be used at an industry entry level.

  Certificate II and III level qualifications can also be used as an entry point to the industry sectors.

  Where qualifications are being considered as a pathway, the following issues need to be considered:

  - a minimum of 3 years' industry experience is recommended before enrolling in a Certificate IV and a minimum of 5 years' experience before enrolling at Diploma level

  - for some occupations in the Transport and Logistics Industry, the achievement of an educational qualification is only a partial fulfilment of the regulatory requirements that must be demonstrated by a person seeking certification from the relevant state/territory regulatory or safety authority.

Users of the TLI Transport and Logistics Training Package Release 2.0 are encouraged to clarify with the relevant authorities, the various regulated occupations in the Transport and Logistics Industry, the full certification requirements for each, and the availability of Australian Apprenticeships and VET in Schools.

Specific qualification charts summarising how qualifications are structured and the available choices in units of competency aligned to industry requirements are available on the website at the links below.

The charts can be used as a guide to determining suitable pathways based on individual choice and detail the structures for many occupations in different sectors such as:

- Furniture Removal
- International Freight Forwarding and Customs Broking
- Materiel and Deployment Logistics
- Rail Infrastructure
- Rail Operations
- Road Transport
- Stevedoring
- Warehousing and Logistics.
